

HARVEST MOON: THE LOST VALLEY LAUNCHES TWO NEW DOWNLOADABLE CONTENT PACKS!

All-new DLC Crop/Recipe and Flower Packs are FREE until May 19th

Burlingame, CA. – April 28, 2015 -- Natsume Inc., a worldwide developer and publisher of family-oriented video games, today launched two all-new downloadable content packs for Harvest Moon: The Lost Valley for Nintendo 3DS. The new Crop/Recipe and Flower packs will be free until May 19th and .99 cents thereafter, and like all crops, these will have mutations to discover and experiment with!

"These free downloadable content packs are our gift to fans for their support of the game," said Hiro Maekawa, President and CEO at Natsume. "We're excited to provide the kind of new content that fans have been asking for, and we have much more in store with a big DLC pack coming in mid-June, including new characters and outfits!"

With the new DLC available, players will enjoy new crops that have been added to Sam's Shop, and can also learn new recipes from Hanna. New kinds of flowers will be available in Iris' shop. But that's not all! Love is in the valley air, and players can look forward to a romantic summer with some extra surprises coming later in June!

This new downloadable content comes on the heels of two previously released DLC packs that are currently available, and include new outfits and hairstyles, along with new decorations and a builder's set! Both of these packs are free to download at any time!

Fans can make suggestions for future content they would like to see in the game by joining the Natsume community at: www.natsume.com/facebook and www.twitter.com/natsume_inc.
