

HARVEST MOON: SKYTREE VILLAGE TO LAUNCH NEW DLC PACKS FEATURING TWO NEW MARRIGABLE CHARACTERS!

Latest downloadable content to feature brand a new bachelor and bachelorette, new statue sets, and a whole lot more!

Burlingame, CA. – January 12, 2016 – Natsume Inc., a worldwide developer and publisher of family-oriented video games, today announced three new downloadable content packs are headed for Harvest Moon: Skytree Village for the Nintendo 3DS. New bachelor and bachelorette character packs are set to arrive on January 24th, with a Harvest Sprite Statue set to be available February 14th.

The new male marriageable candidate is Edmond, a grand mage, who trained both Gareth and Tabitha, and whose knowledge of the world far exceeds either of them. Despite this, he is rather calm and introspective in comparison to the slightly arrogant Gareth and boisterous Tabitha. He has returned to the land of the Harvest Goddess after some time, but what brought him back? Is there some sort of deeper secret he hides within? Also included in this DLC is a statue of the beautiful Harvest Goddess!

The new female marriageable candidate is Nova, a kind and strong-willed girl who showed up in Skytree Village, yet how she got there is a bit of a tale in itself. Her father is a human from the surface world, while her mother is of the tribe of Gorgan from the Underworld Kingdom. Since she was raised in the dark and damp underground mines of the Underworld, the surface world is still a bit strange and confusing to her. Help her learn the ways of the surface dwellers! This DLC also includes a statue of the eccentric creator, Doc!

Available on February 14th, for free, players can beautify their farm with this fantastic DLC set featuring the Harvest Sprite Statue and Harvest Goddess' Pergola! Once downloaded, these two new buildings will be added to players' Insta-Buildings list. What's more, the Harvest Goddess' Pergola comes in a variety of different colors!

"We love surprising fans with new downloadable content packs and continuing to keep the game fresh and exciting," said Hiro Maekawa, President and CEO of Natsume. "We hope players will take to the new bachelor and bachelorette, and that they will become fan favorites!"

The new downloadable content packs come on the heels of the recently released Farm Decorations Set DLC, which is currently available for free. Once downloaded, Doc will have new types of walls for sale! The New Male and Female Character sets will be available January 24th for $2.99 each, and the Harvest Sprite Statue and Harvest Goddess Pergola will be available on February 14th for free.
